Dr. Hartfield will present a 20-30 minute seminar on the state of the aerospace industry in the US, covering the output of the industry, the employment demographics and statistics, the makeup of the industry and Alabama’s contribution to it. This seminar is intended to give some perspective to the audience, and especially students, on the health of the industry and prospects for employment going forward. Some future concepts and directions will also be discussed.