Travel Fellowship Applications

Students need to thoroughly read this page before submitting a Travel Fellowship application

The 100+ Women Strong Travel Fellowship program assists undergraduate and graduate students with their professional development by providing funds to travel to conferences and/or workshops to make research presentations or participate in professional development activities. The fellowship is not intended to support attending courses at other schools, research, or general education travel.

GUIDELINES:

- Preference will be given to students who have participated in 100+ Women Strong Activities.
- The conference or workshop must be relevant to the student's professional development as an engineer.
- Approval of travel requests will be limited to one trip per student per fiscal year, which runs from October 1 to September 30.
- The student must be in good academic standing.
- Travel support provided by any other party (department, school, major professor, etc.) must be listed on the application form.
- The above criteria are the minimum for applying for travel funds. DO NOT assume that satisfying these criteria will automatically guarantee funding.

SUBMITTING AN APPLICATION:

Applications must be submitted at [application link] by the appropriate deadline listed in the table below. LATE APPLICATIONS ARE NOT CONSIDERED. Notification of the award status will be made within 4 weeks after the deadline. Deadlines for subsequent fiscal year travel periods are posted here during the summer semester.

FELLOWSHIP AWARDS
Fellowships will be granted based on professional relevance factors such as whether the student is:

• making a presentation;
• participating in a competition;
• participating in a career fair;
• participating in a professional development workshop; and/or
• other factors as described by the applicant.

Travel fellowship amounts will generally range from $100 to $500 per student. 100+ Women Strong cannot guarantee that all applicants will receive a fellowship.

DISBURSEMENT OF FUNDS
After granting a 100+ Women Strong Travel Fellowship, 100+ Women Strong will send a confirmation email to the student and the researcher advisor or faculty advisor for the relevant student organization.
