Snapshots of the Auburn Family

AUBURN is more than its high rankings, growing campus, and breakthrough inventions. What makes Auburn special is the people who make up the Auburn Family. Especially our students, the faculty who teach them, and the successful alumni they eventually become. For example....

Meet faculty member Mark Byrne

The assistant professor of chemical engineering has developed a proven technology to enable contact lenses to hold medication in concentrated, renewable doses and release the drug in a time-controlled manner.